New York Governor Goes To The Convention In Chicago Backed By Own State's Solid Delegation.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Governor Charles E. Hughes received the endorsement of the state committee as his candidate for the presidential nomination. The resolutions were adopted by the unanimous vote of the committee, which commended Roosevelt "for his rugged determination to oppose wrongdoing and to demand justice for all" and closed him with the greatest and most heroic figures in American history, "Washington, Lincoln, Grant and McKinley." The early indications had been that the meeting would not take up Hughes' candidacy, it being the chief of some of the leaders that the committee declaration was unwarranted and might be inopportune, but these plans were upset shortly before the committee assembled by the announcement that William H. Douglass, member of the committee for the fifteenth district, would move the adoption of a resolution endorsing the candidacy of Hughes for president.

Lighthouse Keeper and Assistant at Manitowoc Are Carried Out to Sea.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Manitowoc, Wis., March 7.—Carried out to sea in a small boat in which they had attempted to reach the fog signal station on the outer breakwater yesterday afternoon, Chas. Algren, lighthouse keeper and an assistant were rescued by Peter Marquette's ferry No. 29 just in the nick of time or they might have faced death in the lake and from exposure. The two men encountered large fields of what ice and the small boat was all but wrecked. An appeal to the government for a more safe means of communication with the station and for a telephone will be made. Algren and his assistant have on three different occasions had their lives imperiled in attempts to reach the station and the government has found it a hard matter to secure men for service as a result.

NEWS FORECAST OF THE COMING WEEK

Republican conventions in Oklahoma And Nebraska—Pennsylvania Stockholders Meeting.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Washington, D. C., March 7.—The coming week does not hold in prospect very many events of wide interest, either domestic or foreign. It is the accepted belief that Congress will not be able to agree on any financial legislation at the present session, and nothing above the regular routine of business is expected from either the House or Senate during the week. In the foreign field the proceedings of the British parliament and possible political developments in Portugal and in the Balkan provinces will attract more or less attention.

Admiral Evans' fleet of battleships is due to reach Magdalena Bay next Saturday and will put in about three weeks there before returning the trip to San Francisco.

Republicans of Oklahoma and Nebraska will hold their State conventions Wednesday to choose delegates to the national convention. The latter managers confidently place Oklahoma in their column and the probability also seems to be that Nebraska will also declare her preference for the Secretary of War, despite the effort that has been made recently to arouse a sentiment for La Follette in that State.

William J. Bryan is expected to deliver his customary quota of addresses during the week and Governor Hughes will be heard at a public dinner in Boston. For Secretary Taft it will be a week of comparative inactivity so far as public speaking is concerned.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will be held in Philadelphia Tuesday.

The progress of the New York-to-Paris automobile race and the Jacksonville-to-Miami road run will be matters of interest in automobile circles. The motion for a new trial in the case of John R. Walsh, convicted of unlawfully funds of the Chicago National Bank, will be heard in the Federal court at Chicago Tuesday.

Conventions of the week that will attract attention will be the meeting of the National Congress of Mothers in this city and the first international convention of the Young People's Missionary Movement in Pittsburgh.

An event of interest to a large section of the West and Southwest will be the annual meeting and exhibition of the Texas Cattle Raisers' association in Fort Worth.

WRECK REPORTED ON BURLINGTON TODAY

Nineteen Persons Reported Injured— Several Cars Are Off the Track.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Kansas City, Mo., March 7.—The Burlington passenger train which left Kansas City at 7:30 this morning for Chicago was derailed at Kearney, Mo., 25 miles north of Kansas City. Several cars are said to have turned over and twenty persons are reported injured, four seriously. The train went over a fifteen-foot embankment.

With the exception of four persons seriously hurt, the injuries to most of the passengers consist mostly of cuts and bruises. The accident was caused by spreading rails.

The train was not running fast and this fact probably prevented more serious results. All but the smoker turned over and went halfway down the embankment.

DEMOCRATIC CLUB OF TEXAS MEETS

Anti-Bailey Element Holds State Convention to Prevent Bailey's Election as Delegate.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Waco, Texas, March 7.—The opposition among Texas Democrats to the leadership of Senator Joseph W. Bailey, which has been more or less active ever since the exposure last year of Senator Bailey's dealings with the Standard Oil people, culminated here today in a largely attended State convention of the anti-Bailey element.

The gathering was arranged by the Central Democratic Club of Texas, which is the name of the anti-Bailey organization, and of which Judge George W. Hildre of Dallas is chairman.

The purpose of the convention, as set forth in Chairman Hildre's call, was to take steps to prevent Senator Bailey from being sent to the national convention at Denver as a delegate-at-large and "to fight against the evils in political and official life which have come to be generally grouped under the name of Baileysism."

The activity of the political foes of Senator Bailey means that there will be a fierce fight in the State convention over the selection of delegates-at-large. The opposition will endeavor to prevent the selection of any Bailey sympathizers.

The State of the Bailey faction for delegates-at-large is understood to consist of Senator Culberson, Senator Bailey, Governor Campbell and State Chairman Carden.

DURAND STILES WAS FOUND DEAD TODAY

Former Baggageman on the Davis Junction Train Killed at Rockford.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Beloit, March 7.—Durand Stiles, until recently baggage-master on the Janesville-Davis Junction run and for the past two months yardmaster at Rockford, was caught between two cars this morning and instantly killed. Five cars ran over his head, crushing it beyond recognition.

Robert and John Kessler, aged 12 and 14, were marooned for five hours yesterday on a bridge over Turtle Creek. The boys started to drive out to the bridge when the horse became frightened and broke away, throwing the boys out. They managed to reach the center of the bridge and with water on either side of them called for help. The Beloit police patrol went out to the scene, but were unable to do anything and left the boys marooned until farmers drove to their rescue through the rising waters.

VIRGINIA MURDERER TO PAY PENALTY FRIDAY

Leo Thurman Will Be Hanged In Norfolk For The Murder Of His Room- mate.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Norfolk, Va., March 7.—Unless Governor Swanson interferes with the sentence, which is not likely, tomorrow will be the last Sunday on earth for Leo C. Thurman, who is to be hanged here next Friday for the murder of his roommate, Walter P. Dolsen, more than two years ago. The convicted man, who is not yet thirty years old, seems resigned to his fate and is said to have made a full confession of his crime.

Both the murderer and his victim were marines in the United States service and had been discharged a short time previous to the crime. Dolsen was on route to his home in Michigan, when he picked up with Thurman. The two young men became friends and together they secured lodging in an East Main street boarding-house in this city. Thurman was practically penniless, while Dolsen had about $100, which he had saved from his pay in the marine corps.

While Dolsen slept one night Thurman chopped the defenseless man to pieces with an axe, robbed him, packed the body in a trunk and tied a rug on it ready for shipment to Edenton, N. C. The crime was discovered almost immediately, but not before Thurman had eluded the police and was finally located in Vancouver, B. C., where he was captured. The possession of had checked, which was an old practice of his, proved his undoing. He was arrested as a result of a check transaction, and when taken to police headquarters in the Vancouver a detective with a good memory for faces recognized in the prisoner the man who was wanted for murder in this city. Thurman, after the murder of Dolsen, had travelled under the name of Gould. The police of this city verified the description of the prisoner, and a hat which he wore bearing the name of a Norfolk hater completed the identification.

Detectives of the Norfolk department were at once sent to British Columbia to bring back the prisoner. A trip of six days across the continent and the much-hunted man was landed behind prison bars, almost two years after the murder had been committed.

A speedy trial with a verdict of murder in the first degree and the last chapter in a career that was punctuated by many misdeeds was completed. Thurman was never placed on the stand. His attorneys argued that if their client killed Dolsen he was insane at the time. There was not a witness for the defense, except to try to prove that Thurman had been considered partly insane at times. Thurman was born in West Point, Ky., and in his youth was a house-boy in Cincinnati and several other Ohio cities. Prior to enlisting in the marine corps he had been in several scrapes of more or less serious nature. After his arrest on the murder charge his family gave him what aid they could. A brother, who came from Kentucky, and a lawyer left the city. He went south, and after wandering across the continent he was finally located in Vancouver, B. C., where he was captured. The possession of had checked, which was an old practice of his, proved his undoing. He was arrested as a result of a check transaction, and when taken to police headquarters in the Vancouver a detective with a good memory for faces recognized in the prisoner the man who was wanted for murder in this city. Thurman, after the murder of Dolsen, had travelled under the name of Gould. The police of this city verified the description of the prisoner, and a hat which he wore bearing the name of a Norfolk hater completed the identification.

REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN IS BEGUN IN NEW YORK STATE

Make Up Of The "Big Four" Is Doubtful— Big Struggle Between Factions Probable.

New York, March 7.—The meeting of the Republican State committee in this city today marks the real opening of the presidential campaign in the Empire State. Pursuant to the call of Chairman Timothy L. Woodruff the committee went into session this morning and closed its doors this afternoon to decide upon the time and place for holding the State convention. The State convention, in addition to naming four delegates-at-large to the national convention, will choose a new State committee which will conduct the fall campaign.

Now that the General Assembly at Albany is nearing the close of its session there is nothing to prevent an early convention, and it has been practically decided upon to hold the convention the second week of April in this city. The primary to delegates to the assembly district committees to the purpose of sending delegates to the State convention, which in turn is to elect the delegates-at-large, are by law to be held the last Tuesday of March, which this year will be March 31. The same primaries will elect delegates to the Congress district conventions.

Congressional districts are anomalous when it comes to delegates, so that the State convention will not be able to instruct more than the four delegates-at-large. Whether or not the delegates will be instructed is said to rest entirely with Governor Hughes. If the governor and his friends want them instructed to Chicago to vote for Hughes for the presidential nomination.

The meeting of the State committee of the State committee has naturally given rise to much gossip concerning the probable makeup of the "big four," and other matters pertaining to Republican politics in New York. The candidacy of Hughes for the presidential nomination seems to be about the only point on which the rival factions are able to agree. On all other matters the rival factions are determined to fight it out to the bitter end. Chairman Woodruff and his friends, who are in close touch with President Roosevelt, declare there will be no compromise with the Old-Black-Brackett contingent. If they are able to control the convention neither Old, Black nor Brackett will be among the four delegates-at-large to the Chicago convention. If their plans go through, Chairman Woodruff and Secretary Root will be two of the "big four." The other two have not been decided upon, though Secretary Cortelyou, President Schurman of Cornell University and ex-Mayor Seth Low are being considered.

It seems to be accepted as a foregone conclusion that the two national convention veterans, Senators Platt and Dewar, are to be left outside the brewhouse. While the ten or a dozen men who control the Republican organization in New York or carry about expressing themselves plainly in the matter, they have allowed the convention to become current that neither of the Senators is likely to go to Chicago as delegates-at-large. The explanation is that a new political generation is in control of this State, a new page has turned, and many "old, familiar faces" will not be seen as often as formerly in high places in Republican national conventions.

FAIR DISCUSSED
FOR THIS AUTUMN

AT MEETING HELD LAST EVEN-ING BY BUSINESS MEN.

HOME COMING AS WELL

Mass Meeting of Citizens, Farmers, and Everyone Interested in the Project to be Held Soon.
It seems probable that Janesville will have a county fair, one of the great old fashioned kind where the fat stock, the fast horses, the chickens, the hogs, the sheep, the biggest stalls of corn, the finest bundles of oats or rye or barley or wheat, the best sack of potatoes, and the results of the labors of the housewives in cooking and sewing will be the attractions and not the vaudeville entertainments.
One of those good old fashioned fairs that used to be a fair in which every farmer in Rock county can have an interest and take a pride in the exhibits shown. This seems probable and at a mass meeting which will be held shortly, to be held either in the court house or the city hall the matter will be thoroughly discussed, an organization perfected, officers elected, stock sold, and the work of booming the matter begun in a systematic manner.

It was an enthusiastic gathering last evening that met to discuss the proposition. Since early last autumn the matter has been more or less talked of and the gathering last evening, while strictly informal, did much towards laying the foundation for the mass meeting that is to be held to publicly discuss the question. Charles Pattman was made chairman of the meeting and A. E. Highman was named as secretary and these two gentlemen will issue the call for the public gathering and present the matter to the session when it assembles.
Not only is a fair talked of but a Home Coming in connection. It has been thought possible to combine these two events, each booming the other. Have the fair open during the day and the Home Coming entertainments in the evening. Not a street carnival affair, but a genuine Home Coming at which former residents could enjoy themselves and the people from the surrounding country find pleasure to be entertained with.

The old county fair grounds can be obtained, J. M. Hostwick, the present owner, offering to make out a lease at a fair figure for a term of years with an option for the purchase of the same if they desire. There could have been much work of repairing done, new buildings erected, the grandstand enlarged, fences rebuilt, stalls erected and the track put in good condition. This will all take money, a rough estimate being that thousands would be necessary. It is the idea of the gentlemen who discussed the plan last evening to raise this by selling stock.

This stock they figure at $50 a share. Considerable of it would of course be placed in the city, but a goodly portion will be sold to farmers in the surrounding country. In fact, many who live adjacent to the city have already made inquiries relative to the matter and have shown considerable interest in the project. With the grounds rented by the year there would be a steady source of income from rentals to circuses, ball games, use of stables, and track for training purposes, which would add materially to the financing of the affair.

Many trainers and owners of strings of fast trotters have already indicated they would be glad to come to Janesville this year if the track is put in good condition and over a hundred horses are certain to be here for the major part of the summer even under the existing conditions. This would keep the interest up in the fast horse end, and it has been suggested that semi-monthly trotting meets could be held during the summer which would also add to the revenues of the association.

The idea is to have the fair early in the fall—some time after the first of September. This would give the farmer time to harvest the exhibits he wished to display and with fair weather would mean the success of the undertaking. It would be a fair of the old fashioned kind with the old fashioned exhibits and good substantial prizes to induce competition. It is the sort that brings forth the best results.

Fred L. Clemens has been suggested as secretary for the proposed association. His work as secretary of the famous Mid Winter Fair which was the host of its kind ever held in the middle west, has given him an experience that would be hard to beat.
Whether Mr. Clemens would take the office is not yet known but he would be an ideal man for the place.

Since the mass meeting decided that a Home Coming would also add to the project there will be considerable work for the committee selected to handle the matter to do. There are thousands of former residents of Janesville who would return for the week or part of it and the arrangements would have to be made upon a far more elaborate scale than for any fourth of July celebration.
Taking it all in all, the prospects for a fair and Home Coming are most bright. It has been suggested that the name of the association be the Janesville Fair Association and the name of Janesville would be a guarantee for a royal entertainment and fair treatment for all exhibitors. The chicken interests would be especially looked after and would have the way for the show of that nature which is scheduled to be held here next January by the local poultry association.

man school yesterday visited the Evanston public school. The address given by Prof. Shultz last evening was excellent and it is very much to be regretted that more were not there to enjoy it. The unfavorable condition of the weather kept many at home.

the death of his aunt, Mrs. Martha Carrington, who died at her home kee has been a guest of relatives here for a few days.

visiting local relatives and friends this week.

A glass show case which stood in front of the Economy store was blown over by the wind this morning and completely demolished.

Rev. D. Q. Grubbs is enjoying a visit from his mother, Mrs. T. P. Dunlap

SEED COMPANY WILL RESUME OPERATIONS

Have Rented Another Building and Will Have Full Force at Work in Few Days.

Clinton, March 6.—On Friday morning Clinton people could see very many things to be thankful for. In the first place there was little wind, and that in the right direction to keep the fire from spreading, had there been a wind such as was blowing the next morning there would have been none of the business portion of the town and few of the residences left; that there was a hard fall of rain to assist in protecting the other property; that the records were saved, so that the Old Seed company is in better shape to prepare for next year's work; that the managers are enthusiastic about getting right to work, so that there will be as little time lost as possible. Early Friday morning they had the beam building on Main street rented, to which their safe and office fixtures were at once moved and in a few days they will have their full force at work. Arrangements were made also with the Herald office so that they could at once get at their announcements, etc. The feed mill, Smith & Holtum works and pumping station, which were nearly, were not destroyed.

It seems as though all of our people were suddenly and all at the time having trouble with their teeth, according to need the attention of a dentist.

Two weddings are in sight for the near future.
Sharon's mid-winter fair left the ladies a net profit of $252, which amount is to be used in a sidewalk to the cemetery. Our people still have to go around the road in the mud, or stay at home. Clinton has one of the pleasantest and best kept cemeteries in this part of the country and it is a shame that there is not a direct road to it and a good walk.

Our people will be glad to know that Lewis Kindred is still alive, living near Shilohville, N. Y.; that he remembers his oldtime Clinton friends, and will be sorry to know his health is poor and that he is nearly blind.

It is said that it is surely to be in May.
Clinton now has a new bakery.
J. F. Kemmerer is finding a ready sale for his car of horses shipped in here from Iowa last Monday.

Thursday was a cool, damp and very disagreeable day.
There was a tremendous rain during the time of the fire on Thursday night, which was of great help in protecting the nearby buildings.

The fire company got into action quickly and did good work, but were unable to do more than to keep the fire from spreading.

The recent loss of the building and stock of the L. L. Old Seed Co. is but a small portion of the loss, as they were receiving immense numbers of orders every day, many of which they will be unable to fill, thereby losing much of the entire year's business. Then all of their fixtures, forns, cans, bags, mills, machinery, etc., which had been the accumulation of years, is gone. Many are thrown out of employment and that in a bad season of the year.

The patrons can rest assured that the local seed company will have no old "carried over" seeds to put out next season. All in that line, including every potato, was burned.

It was a very pleasant gathering which met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Selldick on Wednesday evening.

WILL GIVE SERIES
OF LENTEN SERMONS

Rev. J. W. Laughlin and Rev. R. C.
Denison to Deliver Series of Sermons.

Two of the local pastors will give a series of sermons during Lent. Rev.
J. W. Laughlin will preach on Sunday morning during Lent on some phase of "The One Great Life." "Jesus." They will be given in the following order:

March 8—"The Education of Jesus." March 15—"How Jesus Began Public Life."
March 22—"Meeting Temptation." March 29—"His First Repulse." April 5—"What Jesus Thought of Himself."

April 12—"A Burst of Popular Approval."
April 19—"His Great Triumph." A chorus choir under the direction of Prof. J. S. Taylor will render special music at each service.

Rev. R. C. Denison will deliver a series of Sunday sermons on "Religion and the Thoughtful Man of Today." These addresses are based on the answers which fifty Janesville men gave to a number of questions on the deeper religious subjects. The men were selected at random and include business men, working men, and professional men. The following are the topics:

March 8—"The Value of Religion to Life."
March 15—"What Religion Means to Men." March 22—"Why Men Believe in God."
March 29—"Is God Real to Men?" April 5—"The Church and the World."
April 12—"Do Men Believe in Immortality."

Fast Enough.
The discovery has been made that the world does not revolve with the same momentum it did a thousand years ago; but it still swings round fast enough to satisfy the man with a bill coming due.

No definite instructions have been received as yet by local railroad men as to the gasoline car which was to be put on Monday between here and Beloit. Work on the turn table which was being built for the car in Beloit has been stopped. This table was to have been ready Monday. It may be that the car will be run from Belvidere and Rockford to here. In the case the table at Beloit would not be needed.

Between eight and nine o'clock last evening John Dobes, the flag man at the Five Points heard two shots from near the Northwestern freight depot. A St. Paul passenger train was between him and the depot at the time so that he could not see what was going on and by the time the train had passed all was quiet again and no one was in sight.

INTERURBAN FEARS
FLOODS MAY COME

Is Watching the Right-of-way Between Beloit and Rockford. Turtle River is Out.

Fearing, it is said, that during the night a flood may come and wash away their tracks, the interurban road officials will, it is understood, keep a close watch on portions of the line between Beloit and Rockford.
In culverts between the two cities the water is so high that it already covers the tracks. An ice dam near Roscoe is helping to raise the waters and serious trouble is anticipated if much more rain falls or if unexpected quantities of water are discharged into the river farther north.

Turtle creek is also rising near Be-loft and is again turned into a raging torrent. The water has passed its natural confines and is covering the fair grounds road. It has not yet flooded any lawns near the road, but it is feared it may yet do so.

GAVE AN OLD TIME
SOCIAL LAST NIGHT

Two Hundred Members of the Baptist Sunday School Have Pleasant Evening.

In the parlors of the Baptist church last evening two hundred members of the Sunday school enjoyed an old fashioned social. Roy Elder dressed in a costume of "ye olden times" and announced the different numbers on the program, which was made up of songs and recitations.

The entire program was as follows:
Vernice Hawley, recitation; Florence Crissey, violin solo, piano accompaniment by Miss Rose Hathorn; Lester Dunlap, recitation; Mrs. J. L. Medea and Mrs. A. C. Campbell, in costume, song "Auld Lang Syne"; Florence Mayble and Margaret Clark, song, "Old Black Joe"; and Mrs. Woods, a story. Roy, it is, Vaughan then gave a short talk comparing the olden times with the present, after which refreshments were served. Many of those present had genuine old fashioned costumes which had come down to them from their ancestors. One lady wore her great grandmother's wedding dress which was over one hundred and twenty-five years old.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Gazette, March 7, 1868.—Plea Knocked Out—Large number of men went over the dam this afternoon and were crowded down by the rushing water until they came in contact with the abutment in the bed of the stream to support the lower bridge. These they broke off and swept down stream. This weakened the structure to a considerable extent, and may lead to an utter demolition of it.

Sudden River.—It is very seldom that the river at this point rises so rapidly as it did within the twenty-four hours after the recent rain. During that time the water rose five feet, and is still coming up. The amount of snow northward was much greater than it was here, and if the rain prevailed there we may expect the present stage of water, and even a higher one, will prevail for some days. In the spring of 1863 it was over two feet higher than it is at the present time.

Bridge at Sugar River Gone.—We learn from Dr. Trent, who returned from Broadhead this afternoon, that the bridge over the Sugar River on the Monroe branch, has been swept out by the high water. The train for Broadhead left here at 10:30 yesterday and reached Broadhead on time. But a short distance beyond that station, a carload was found to need repairs, and Conductor Baker and his men worked energetically for a long time to repair it so as to enable the train to cross. This they accomplished, but only to find the bridge over the Sugar River impassable by reason of an operation of it having gone out. This left the train on an island, where it lay helpless. The indications were that the entire bridge would go. The water in the river is very high and is likely to do considerable damage.

No train has passed over the Madison branch of the Northwestern road today, and no train has reached here from Milwaukee since yesterday afternoon. We shall undoubtedly hear of much damage caused by the storm.

Washington, March 6.—At one o'clock Chief Justice Chase swore in Senator Wade and called the court of impeachment to order after its organization. The House managers were summoned and on reaching the bar of the Senate Mr. Blighman asked that a summons be issued to the President to appear and answer the articles of impeachment. On motion a summons was ordered issued made returnable on Friday, March 13th, at 10 o'clock. The court then adjourned.

ARE QUIETLY BUYING THE CROP OF 1907

American Cigar Co. Buyers Are Riding and Buying Carefully and Methodically.

Edgerton, Wis., March 6.—The buying of last season's crop in progress with more deliberate methods than for some years past, says the Edgerton Tobacco Reporter. We learn that the buyers of the American Cigar Co. have commenced riding, but the movement everywhere is quietly done and time taken in making selections. They claim there is but little trouble experienced in agreeing upon terms and growers quite generally anxious to dispose of their holdings at the going price. So far the effort is largely to pick the most promising crops, and prices seldom get much above the cost made for the wrapper and binder grades for bundle delivery. Sales coming to notice are:

JUDGE BECKER IN LIME LIGHT AGAIN

Issued Warrant For Commitment of Atty. Sherron For Contempt of Court.

Monroe, Wis., March 7.—Judge J. M. Becker of the Green county circuit court and a candidate for circuit judge in the contest that resulted in the election of Judge Grimm, is in the lime light again. This time he is in the lime light because of his conduct in contempt of court. A commitment issued by him and placed in the hands of Sheriff Durell was knocked out by Court Commissioner Thomas Luchinsinger, who discharged Mr. Sherron after a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus. Judge Becker, in his order, charged that the attorney committed contempt of court in the use of disrespectful language, alleging that the attorney called him a "red faced fool." The attorney, at the examination, denied using any term or bad language until provoked when the judge jumped to his feet and seized a heavy paper weight, raising it as if to throw it. The attorney dodged back, exclaiming "you red faced son of a gun." The incident closed an argument over the application of a rule of the court requiring attorneys to pay their own attorney fees.

The judge had disallowed the attorney's charges of $10 for services in getting up the writ of habeas corpus. The attorney complained that the rule was not generally applied and urged the court when he filed a case where an attorney had been allowed $25. The judge threatened to issue another commitment. Another attorney who has been in the disfavor of the court was cited for contempt a few months ago but the matter was dropped. Both attorneys incurred the will of the court over a year ago when the judge became involved in some litigation that was carried to the circuit court.

TASTES LIKE CANDY THOUGH CURES YOU OF INDIGESTION

Diapiesin will make you eat and then digest every bite for you, leaving nothing to ferment and sour.

Of course, if you insist upon waiting until you have tried all the so-called digestive tablets, bitters, cathartics, etc., before you really make up your mind to get rid of your stomach trouble, there is nothing to hinder you. But listen!

You haven't Catarrh of the Stomach, or Nervousness, or Gastritis, or Cancer, etc. Prove this by taking one 22-grain Triangulo of Diapiesin after your very next meal. Convince yourself within five minutes that your actual disease was sour, acid Stomach—Food fermentation—that every bite you ate turned to Stomach gas, Stomach poison and Acid, which makes you feel sick and miserable, producing such symptoms as pain in the pit of the stomach, Difficulty in breathing after a meal, Headaches, Belching, Heartburn, Nauseous breath, Water brash, Bitterness, Sour risings, Gas on Stomach and many other bad feelings.

Now and forever rid yourself of the misery of Indigestion and Stomach trouble. Make your meals a pleasure by going to the table with a healthy appetite.

Indigestion is a result, not a cause, of your misery. If the Stomach is sour, your food becomes tainted, and that's why you have these stomach disorders.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on the case of Triangulo Diapiesin, which costs only 50 cents anywhere in this city. Read what this effective Stomach and digestive treatment contains, and how absolutely harmless it must be; how it does for the Stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the skin; absolutely removes every corrupting or tainting element, and will digest for you 3,000 grains of any kind of food.

Get a case of Diapiesin now, then eat anything you want at your next meal, and you will not suffer from Indigestion or Stomach trouble. Each bite of food will taste good, and besides, you will not need liver regulators to keep your intestines and Stomach clean and fresh.

The dinner bell should be a signal for the happiest time of the day. Every member of the family should go to the table in his most genial mood. Each one should bring his best, brightest and most cheerful things to it. No one should be allowed to complain or relate his or her troubles there. The assembling round the dinner table should be an occasion for the fun and laughter and cheerful talk—the enemies of indigestion.

FENTON WINANS AND WIFE

Who Was Formerly Miss Jessa Fredericks, and Another, Newton E. Winans, Arrested While Boarding Train.

Fenton J. Winans, at one time a resident of the C. & N. W. Ry. Co. at Janesville, his wife, who was formerly Miss Jessa Fredericks, daughter of the late Nicholas Fredericks, a prominent and successful business man of this city for a number of years; and a brother, Newton E. Winans, were arrested at Elgin, Ill., on a charge of shoplifting just as they were about to board a train for Chicago yesterday. The police seized their baggage consisting of three trunks and two suitcases, which were alleged to have been packed with plunder from several of the Elgin stores. Mrs. Winans had $165 on her person and was released temporarily upon payment of a $100 cash bond. Her companions were bound over to the grand jury.

Visited Here a Year Ago

It is now nearly eight years since Fenton J. Winans was employed as a yardmaster here and made his home with his father-in-law, the late Nicholas Fredericks, at 101 Center avenue. He and his wife were last here, so far as can be learned, during the early spring of a year ago. They were at that time residents of Hyde Park, Chicago, and had occupied an expensive flat at 5523 Jefferson avenue for over two years. From all appearances they were people of means and Fenton J. was supposed to have been a salesman in the employ of Swift & Co. Newton during the same period, conducted a grocery store on Fifty-fifth street.

Disappeared Last Fall

Nicholas Fredericks died over two years ago, leaving some property which, according to reports, was heavily encumbered. The daughter, however, was supposed to have received a comfortable sum as the proceeds, something before last Thanksgiving. Fenton J. Winans went to Marshfield, Wis., ostensibly to engage in business there. After an interval articles appeared in several of the metropolitan papers to the effect that he had mysteriously disappeared, without troubling himself to return a large sum of money belonging to the wife which he had taken with him to invest. After a time the missing man turned up in Chicago and, according to rumors received here, obtained the forgiveness of his wife for having left her cash in Hyde Park last October and when that time none of their local friends appear to have known anything of their whereabouts. Janesville Goods in Plunder?

[Special to the Gazette.]

Chicago, March 7.—Mr. and Mrs. Fenton J. Winans and Newton E. Winans, arrested at Elgin for shoplifting, appear to have worked elsewhere also. Four hundred dollars' worth of goods found in their baggage appeared to have been secured from stores in Janesville; Keokuk, Iowa; Galena, Ill.; Quincy, Ill.; and Rock Island, Ill. Mrs. Winans, who was last seen in Janesville in the fall, confessed. They claim Janesville as their home.

Reverend Salvome is here in the interests of the Syrian colony in La Crosse which hope shortly to erect a church of their own. The rite used in the Catholic churches here is that of the western church, while that of the Melchite rite is the oldest.

$10,000 DAMAGE ACTION WILL BE TRIED ON MONDAY

Saloon Keepers Willing to File Petitions for Second Naturalization Papers Should do so Before March 15—Other Circuit Court Notes.

Wisconsin saloon-keepers who are not citizens of the United States and who are not in a position to file their second naturalization papers by March 15, so that their petitions may be heard after ninety days' notice on June 15, will become amenable to Section 1551 (Chap. 188) of the laws of 1907 which provides that—

From and after the first Tuesday in July, 1908, no license to sell, deal, or traffic in malt, ardent, spirituous, or intoxicating liquors shall be granted or issued to any person not a full citizen of the United States and this state and a resident of the town, village, or city in which said license is applied for, nor shall any such license be granted or issued to any person who has been convicted of any offense against the laws of the state punishable by imprisonment in the state's prison.

Four days each year have been set by Judge Grimm for the hearing of the petitions for second naturalization papers. They are: the fourth Monday in February; the first Monday in May; the third Monday in June; and the first Monday in September. The notices of the petitions must be posted ninety days before these dates and hereafter two years must intervene between the taking out of the first and the second, or final, naturalization papers. Those whose petitions are already posted for a hearing in June are: Norman Bulbitz of Elgin and Thomas Joyce and William Leitz, both of Janesville.

When the jurors reasonable at the court house Monday afternoon the work of selecting twelve to try the $10,000 damage action of Frank Kahler vs. the J. Thompson & Son Mfg. Co. of Beloit will be at once commenced. The plaintiff lost a hand and part of a forearm in an accident in the defendant's manufactory.

Winifred Fifield Case.

By agreement between the attorneys, the trial of the $25,000 damage action of Winifred Fifield vs. the Milwaukee Electric Ry. & Light Co. and the C. M. & St. P. Ry. Co. will probably be continued until the next July term. The defendants have lost both of their appeals to the supreme court, one brought on the grounds of defective service of complaint, and the other to compel a change of venue to Milwaukee county.

ALL NOMINATIONS TO BE IN MONDAY

Candidates for City Offices Must Get Busy to Answer Law's Requirements.

On Monday next will expire the period allowed by law for filing nomination papers. At noon today none of the necessary documents plus any democratic candidate in line for a position on the city ticket or on the First and Third ward tickets had been filed. Nor had any republicans come forth to seek possible honors in the Fourth or Fifth wards.

In the Fourth ward J. J. Sheridan, candidate for re-nomination and re-election as democratic alderman, is the only person who has thus far come forward to seek a place on either ticket. It is understood that papers are being circulated for H. H. Blanchard, who will contest with Stanley D. Tallman for the republican nomination as justice of the peace for the long term.

Papers have been filed recently by James A. Batters, who seeks to be the republican candidate for city treasurer; Harry L. Maxfield, who seeks re-nomination as republican candidate for city attorney; Arthur M. Fisher, who wishes to be republican standard-bearer in the race for school commissioner at large; W. W. Watt for alderman in third ward; and George L. Bogardus, who would be republican nominee for constable from the Third ward.

JOHNSON INDORSED IN HIS HOME STATE

FIGHT BETWEEN GOVERNOR'S AND BRYAN'S SUPPORTERS.

MINNESOTA SON WINNER

However, Commoner's Adherents Declare They Will Not Be Bound by Verdict—State Committee in Session.

St. Paul, Minn., Mar. 7.—The Democratic state committee of Minnesota Friday afternoon, after a bitter fight, adopted a resolution endorsing Gov.
John A. Johnson of Minnesota for the Democratic presidential nomination and recommending that he be named by the national convention at Denver next July.

As the meeting of the committee was presided over by Frank A. Day, private secretary to the governor, and who voted for the Johnson resolution on every vote and on the final ballot, the action of the committee is held by political leaders as placing the governor formally in the race for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Bryan Men Object.
The Johnson resolution was carried by a vote of 68 to 23, after the Bryan adherents had forced two test votes, on both of which they were defeated. The Bryan men insisted on a roll call on every vote and gave notice in their speeches on the original resolution that they would not be bound by the action of the state committee but would make a fight through-

Gov. Johnson.
out the state for a delegation from Minnesota to the national convention instructed for the nomination of Mr.
Bryan. Moreover a meeting of Bryan adherents, held at the Ryan hotel immediately after the adjournment of the state committee, formed a Bryan organization which proposes to carry the contest against Johnson into every precinct of the state.

Convention Set for May 14.
The state committee Friday afternoon, besides adopting the Johnson resolution, voted that the state convention in elect delegates to the national convention should be held in St. Paul on May 14. The matter of calling a convention to nominate state officers was left to a committee of five to be appointed by State Chairman Frank A. Day. The meeting of the committee Friday was the most largely attended in the history of the Democratic party in Minnesota, word having been sent to all members that a resolution endorsing Johnson would probably be offered. Of the 111 members 82 were present or were represented by proxy. Several proxies were thrown out on a technical point, though on only one proxy contest was there any indication of the Johnson Bryan fight. This was on the proxy held by James Mahan of St. Paul, who is conducting the suit before the interstate commission against Pullman rates.

He is Bryan's Friend.
Mr. Mahan is a personal friend of Mr. Bryan and is recognized as one of the Bryan leaders in this state. He came to the committee holding a proxy for the member from Itasca county, which he had received from T. T. Hudson of Duluth, Democratic national committeeman. Mr. Hudson had received the proxy by wire from the Itasca county member. The committee on proxies ruled that a proxy could not be transferred. Thus Mr.
Mahan was prevented from taking part in the meeting.

The committee on proxies was then appointed and a recess of five minutes ordered. The proxy committee, however, took so much time in making its report that the convention was not called to order again until late. In spite of the fact that the proxy committee had thrown out Mr. Mahan

PASTOR MAKES CHARGES

Brandon, Vt., Reverend Tenders Allegations to New York Conference and Declines Will Be Handed Down in April.

Brandon, Vt., Mar. 7.—Charges have been preferred by Rev. George A.
Cooke, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church in Brandon against Rev.
J. R. Day, LL. D., chancellor of Syracuse university, on the ground that Dr.
Day defamed the character of President Roosevelt.

The charges have been presented to Rev. Dr. R. M. Watters, presiding elder of the New York church conference of the Methodist church, to which Chancellor Day is ecclesiastical-ly attached.

When interviewed Friday night concerning the allegations Rev. Mr. Cooke said it was true he had brought charges against Chancellor Day. He said that in a book entitled "A Raid on Prosperity," written by Chancellor Day, President Roosevelt was severely criticized and that in his opinion Dr. Day had violated the rules of the Methodist Episcopal church in thus assailing the president. Mr. Cooke stated that the specific charge preferred was defamation of character.
He considered that although Syracuse university is under obligations to the Standard Oil people by reason of large money gifts, Chancellor Day was not justified as a minister of the Methodist church in assailing President Roosevelt. The university itself is nonsec-tarian.

To Decide in April.
It is expected the charges will be passed upon at the April conference of the New York district.

Rev. Mr. Cooke was formerly pastor of the Methodist church at Milford, Mass., and is well-known in New England and New York through his campaign against Prof. Huxley G. Mitchell, formerly professor of Hebrew and Old Testament exegesis of Boston university. Prof. Mitchell is a minister in the Methodist church and several years ago certain parts of his writings were under investigation by the bishops and other church authorities. Charges of immorality were preferred at various times in different conferences by Rev.
Mr. Cooke. More recently he has appeared in charges against Gordon Parlor Browne, professor of philosophy at Boston university, and against Dr.
James M. Buckley, editor of the Christian Advocate. These charges were dismissed after a hearing.

"Cooke a Joke," Says Day.

Syracuse, N. Y., Mar. 7.—Chancellor Day Friday night made the following statement: "Cooke is something of a joke to those who know him. He seems to have a mania to bring charges against some one and he has exercised this privilege many times in the past. Something over a week ago he wrote me a letter saying that he intended to bring charges against me. Among other things, he said: 'This is a serious matter for the republic. It may as well be fought out over you as anyone else.'"

BECOMING A MOTHER

Is an ordeal which all women approach with indescribable fear, for nothing compares with the pain and horror of child-birth. The thought of the suffering and danger in store for her, robs the expectant mother of all pleasant anticipations of the coming event, and casts over her a shadow of gloom which cannot be shaken off. Thousands of women have found that the use of Mother's Friend during pregnancy robs confinement of all pain and danger, and insures safety to life of mother and child. This scientific liniment is a god-send to all women at the time of their most critical trial. Not only does Mother's Friend carry women safely through the perils of child-birth, but its use gently prepares the system for the coming event, prevents "morning sickness," and other discomforts of this period.

THE MYSTERY

By STEWART EDWARD WHITE And SAMUEL HOPKINS ADAMS

COPYRIGHT, 1907, BY McCLURE, PHILLIPS &amp; CO.

The bluff creature to a chance well. A door slammed. The voices were cut off. I looked up. The nigger's head was thrust forward fairly into the glow from the companionway. The mask of his ugliness had fallen. His eyes fairly rolled in excitement. His thick lips were drawn back to expose his teeth. His powerful figure was gathered with the tenseness of a bow. When the door slammed he turned silently to glide away. At that instant the watch was changed, and in a moment I found myself in my bunk.

Ten seconds later the nigger, detained by Captain Selover for some trifling duty, burst into the forecastle. He was possessed of the wildest excitement. This in itself was enough to gain the attention of the men, but his first words were startling.

"I found do treasure!" he almost shouted. "I know where he kept!" They leaped at him—Handy Solomon and I—fairly shook out of him what he thought he knew. He blabbed in the forgotten terms of alchemy, dressing modern facts in the garments of medieval thought until they were scarcely to be recognized.

"And to be sure he did him, do philosopher stone, and he keep him in dat heavy box, and he carry aboard, and he don't have to make gold with it—he can make diamonds—diamonds—he say it too easy to fill dat box plum full of diamonds!"

They gasped and exclaimed and breathed hard, full of the marvel of such a thought. Then abruptly the clamor died to nothing. I felt six eyes bent on me, six unflinching eyes moving restlessly in motionless figures, suspicious, deadly as cobras.

Up to now my standing with the men had been well enough. Now they drew frankly apart. One of the most significant indications of this was the increased respect they paid my office. It was as though by prompt obedience, instant deference and the emphasizing of ship's etiquette they intended to draw sharply the line between themselves and me. There was much whispering apart, many private talks and consultations in which I had no part. Ordinarily they talked freely enough before me. Even the railing during the dog watch was interrupted—at least it was, on such days as I happened to be in the watch below. But twice I caught the nigger and Handy Solomon consulting together over the volume on alchemy.

I was in two minds whether to report the whole matter to Captain Selover. The only thing that restrained me was the vagueness of the intention and the fact that the afterguard was armed and was four to the crew's five. An incident, however, decided me. One evening I was awakened by a sound of violent voices. Captain Selover occasionally juggled the watches for variety's sake, and I now had Handy Solomon and Perdosa. The nigger, being cook, stood no watch. "You drunken greaser swab!" snarled Handy Solomon. "You son of a Yaquil! I'll learn you to step on a seaman's foot, and you can kiss the look on that! I'll cut your heart out and feed it to the sharks!"

"Pothat!" snarled Perdosa. "You cut heem you finger and your knife." They wrangled. At first I thought the quarrel genuine, but after a moment or so I could not avoid a sort of reminiscent impression of the cheap melodrama. It seemed incredible, but soon I could not dodge the conclusion that it was a makeup quarrel designed to impress me.

Why should they desire to do so? I had to give it up, but the fact itself was obvious enough. I laughed to go.

them. The 'affair' did not 'come' to blows, but it did come to black looks on meeting, muttered oaths, growls of animosity every time they happened to pass each other on the deck. Perdosa was not so bad. His Mexican blood melted him to the hilt, and his Mexican cast lent itself well to evil looks. But Handy Solomon for the first time in my acquaintance with him was ridiculous.

About this time we crossed into frequent thunders. One evening just at dark we made out a heavy black squall. Not knowing exactly what weight lay behind it, I called up all hands. We ducked the stowaway and forward, lowered the peak of the mainmast and waited to feel of it, a rough and ready seamanship often used in these little California wind jammers. I was pretty busy, but I heard distinctly Handy Solomon's voice behind me:

"I'll kill you sure, you greaser, as soon as my hands are free!"

And some muttered reply from the Mexican. The wind hit us hard, held on a few moments and moderated to a stiff puff. There followed the rain, so of course I knew it would amount to nothing. I was just stooping to throw the stops off the stowaway when I felt myself seized from behind and forced rapidly toward the side of the ship.

Of course I struggled. The Japanese have a little trick to fool a man who catches you around the waist from behind. It is part of the jiu jitsu taught the Samurai, quite a different proposition from the ordinary "police-man jiu jitsu." I picked it up from a friend in the nobility. It came in very handy now, and by good luck a roll of the ship helped me. In a moment I stood free, and Perdosa was picking himself out of the scuppern.

"The expression of astonishment was fairly well done—I will say that for him—but I was prepared for histrionics."

"Senor!" he gasped. "Get in you! Sacramento Mar! I thought you was dat Solomon! Pardon me, senor! Pardon! Have I hurt you?"

He approached me, almost wheedling. I could have laughed at the villain. It was all so transparent. He no more mistook me for Handy Solomon than he felt any real enmity for that person. But, being angry and perhaps a little scared, I beat him to his quarters with a belaying pin.

On thinking the matter over, however, I failed to see all the law and odds of it. I could understand a desire to get rid of me. There would be one less of the afterguard, and then, too, I knew too much of the men's sentiments if not of their plans. But why all this elaborate farce of the mock quarrel and the alleged mistake? Could it be to guard against possible failure? I could hardly think it worth while. My only theory was that they had wished to test my strength and determination. The whole affair, even on that supposition, was childish enough, but I referred the exaggerated cunning to Handy Solomon and considered it quite adequately explained. It is a minor point, but subsequently I learned that this surmise was correct. I was to be saved because none of the conspirators understood navigation.

The next morning I approached Captain Selover.

"Captain," said I, "I think it my duty to report that there is trouble brewing among the crew."

"There always is," he replied, unmoved.

"But this is serious. Dr. Schermerhorn came aboard with a chest which the men think hold treasure. The other evening Robinson overheard him tell his assistant that he could easily fill the box with diamonds. Of course he was merely illustrating the value of some scientific experiment, but Robinson thinks and has made the others think that the chest contains something to make diamonds with. I am sure they intend to get hold of it. The affair is coming to a head."

Captain Selover listened almost indifferently. "I came back from the islands last year," he piped, "with $300,000 worth of pearls. There was sixteen in the crew, and every man of them was blood hungry for their pearls. They had three or four shindles and killed one man over the proper way to divide the loot after they had got it. They didn't get it. Why?" He drew his powerful figure to its height and spread his thick arms out in the luxury of stretching. "Why?" he repeated, exclaiming abruptly. "Because their captain was Ezra Selover. Well, Mr. Eugen," he went on crisply, "Captain Ezra Selover is their captain, and they know it. They'll talk and palaver and get into dark corners and sharpen their knives and perhaps fight it out as to which one's going to work the monkey doodle business in the doctor's chest and which one's going to tie up the necks of them diamonds, but they won't get any farther as long as Captain Ezra is on deck."

"Yes," I objected, "but they mean business. Last night in the squall one of them tried to throw me overboard."

Captain Selover grinned. "What did you do?" he asked.

"I laced him to his quarters with a belaying pin."

"Well, that's all settled then, isn't it? What more do you want?"

All the Gold IN GEORGIA Could not Buy—

Riding, Ga. August 27, 1908.
Messrs. R. C. DeWitt & Co.,
Chicago, Ill.

Gentlemen: In 1897 I had a disease of the stomach and bowels. Some physicians told me it was Dyspepsia, some Consumption of the Lungs, others said it was Consumption of the Liver. One physician said I would not live until Spring, and for four long years I existed on a little boiled milk, soda biscuits, doctors' prescriptions and Dyspepsia remedies that flooded the market. I could not digest anything I ate, and in the Spring 1901 I picked up one of your Almanacs as a poor emaciated Dyspepsia wreck will grasp at anything, and that Almanac happened to be my life savor. I bought a city cat bottle of KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE and the benefit I received from that bottle ALL THE GOLD IN GEORGIA COULD NOT BUY. I kept on taking it and in two months I went back to my work, as a machinist, and in three months I was well and hearty. I still use a little occasionally as I find it a fine blood purifier and a good tonic.

May you live long and prosper.

Teheran, Persia, March 6.—The Shah of Persia lives in daily danger of assassination. A second attempt upon his life was unsuccessful, but the next time he may not be so fortunate. On February 25, two bombs were thrown from a house top at him while he was driving in the street below. Twelve men were killed, but the Shah escaped. The police have arrested 20 persons, but have been unable to identify the men who threw the bombs. The Shah got out of his carriage and entered the house of Dr. Kahn. He remained here for some time and then walked to the palace surrounded by a thousand guards.

Washington, D. C., March 6.—It is taken for granted in official circles here that the would-be assassins of the Shah of Persia were the actors in a plot headed by reactionaries against his government. For several months the political pot in Persia has been seething. Conspiracy against the government was unearthed by the representatives of the Shah's secret service. Conditions have been very unsettled and two or three times revolutions were feared. Each time, however, after strenuous efforts, the populace became apparently normal, but rest and quiet have never been restored. Further complications are feared.

Mohammed Ali Mirza, the present Shah, ascended the throne as Mohammed San in January, 1907. The palace is situated at Teheran within a large courtyard and is a handsome edifice. Across the center of this courtyard is a large fountain. The Shah's throne room and the famous white marble throne. Upon this throne the Shah plays himself to the people.

THOMAS EDISON.

New York, March 7.—The second operation performed on Thomas A. Edison, the distinguished inventor, at the Marshall Eye, Ear and Throat hospital, is proving more serious than was at first expected. Complications set in on the first operation, necessitating a second. Mr. Edison's wife, son and daughter remained at his bedside and for a time it was feared he was dying. Dr. J. H. Branshaw, his family physician in Orange, N. J., is also in attendance at the hospital. Dr. Ducl is very reticent about expressing in decided terms assurance of recovery. His reports are vague and rather tend to dishearten the friends who are in constant touch with the hospital. Mr. Edison's advanced years are a great hindrance to his recovery. He has been totally deaf for a number of years and it was hoped an operation would remedy his trouble, but doctors have given up hope of Mr. Edison ever again hearing.

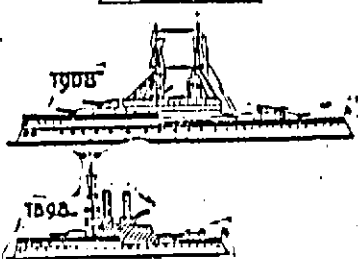

Diagram showing increase in size of the United States navy. In 1908 the navy was the largest battleship with 11,316 tons displacement. In 1902 the Delaware was largest with 20,000 tons.

Had the United States had as strong a navy 10 years ago as she has today there would not have been a Spanish American war. This is the theory held by many military experts. The cost of this short war to the United States was in round numbers $500,000,000, and so far in the course of civilization man has found no method of settling international troubles of great moment except by war.

Since 1898 and the Spanish-American war the United States has taken great strides in the development of her navy. There are now over twice as many officers and men as in 1898. Uncle Sam's naval officers and men now number 35,000, whereas in 1898 he only had 15,000.

The most remarkable growth, however, has been in the amount of tonnage. Our armored cruiser strength on January 1, 1908 was 118,825 tons, but today it totals 562,591 tons, a growth of nearly five times.

The individual unit of the navy has grown so much in the 10 years since 1898 that today the Iowa, which was the pride of our navy then, is only about one-half the size of our newest type of battleship, the Delaware. The Iowa is of 11,316 displacement and the Delaware will be 20,000 tons. The Iowa cost $3,010,000 and the Delaware will cost about $5,000,000.

We hear constantly the cry from men opposed to increasing our navy, that we are expending too much. Measured per capita, it is much less than that borne with so much patriotic willingness by our forefathers more than a hundred years ago. Standardized by relatively unimpaired interests, it is immeasurably less. Here is what a secretary of the navy has said on this subject:

"The pecuniary burden," he reports to the president, "imposed on each inhabitant of the United States for the maintenance of the navy may be estimated roughly, but with a fair approximation to accuracy, at one-third of that borne by each inhabitant of Great Britain and Ireland, and the burden of personal service to the like end at about one-seventh. Expressed in figures, one may say that the cost of the navy amounts to about $123 per annum for each inhabitant of the United States, and that about six men out of every 10,000 inhabitants are at present bound by law to naval service. Surely such burdens, or even some slight increase of these burdens, will be accepted without reluctance or murmur by the patriotic and good sense of the American people."

The McAdoo Tunnel Connecting New York and New Jersey. Mr. McAdoo, whose genius is back of the Tunnel System Connecting Manhattan and Hoboken.

New York, March 3.—The opening of the McAdoo tunnel between New York and Hoboken on Feb. 25, 1908, marks the completion of one of the greatest, if not the greatest, engineering feats ever attempted in the United States. The obstacles encountered were many and unique and had to be met by original engineering methods. Some go so far as to claim that the McAdoo tunnel is a greater engineering feat than the Panama canal will be when completed. The opening was the occasion of great festivities at the Hoboken terminal. Governor Hughes represented New York and Governor Fort New Jersey, and each made an address of congratulation. President Roosevelt pressed the button in Washington which turned on the electric current and started the cars. Mr. McAdoo was cheered and cheered, as was also Walter G. Oakman, president of the company. The enthusiasm shown by the people of Hoboken in the vicinity of Nineteenth street, station of the new tunnel, the stores were also early decked with flags. A stranger passing through that part of the city might have thought a national holiday was being celebrated. The huge cars conveying the 500 invited guests made the trip in 11 1/2 minutes. An extra car had been added to insure all the guests having seats, but even this precaution was not sufficient. Edward H. Hurdman and Cornelius Vanderbilt made the journey hanging on the straps, and both were twisted about it by their friends. "I would rather ride under the Hudson today hanging on a strap than ride to Albany in a private car," said Mr. Vanderbilt. President Roosevelt's message of congratulations was read. This was followed by addresses by Mr. McAdoo, Gov. Fort and Gov. Hughes.

The tunnel is only part of the great McAdoo system which will put Newark only 15 minutes away from New York by express; for express trains will be run between the two cities when the entire system is in operation. Work is progressing rapidly upon the lower tubes, which will run from Cortland and Fulton streets to Jersey City beneath the Pennsylvania railroad terminal and on to Newark, a loop awingling north beneath Washington street, Jersey City, and connecting the Morton street tunnel near the Delaware & Lackawanna station in Hoboken. These are the stations of the Morton street line:

Christopher Street—Christopher and Greenwich streets.
Sixth Avenue—Sixth avenue and Christopher streets.

Fourteenth Street—Fourteenth St. and Sixth avenue.

Nineteenth Street—Nineteenth St. and Sixth avenue.

Twenty-third Street—Twenty-third St. and Sixth avenue.

Twenty-fifth Street—Twenty-fifth St. and Sixth avenue.

The last three stations on the line have not yet been opened, but will be in the near future. In the rush hours each day, the train schedule through the tunnel will be on three-minute headway, and at other hours the trains will start every five minutes from both ends of the line. There will be no express trains until the entire system is in working order. The rate of fare is 5 cents. The system of purchasing tickets at a little box when entering and dropping them into a box at the train platform gates is the same as in the subway and on the elevated.

Does This Settle It? Somebody is asking: Which genius the genius of energy and industry.—Mitchell.
